

The course is designed to help overseas teachers of English to secondary school students and adults to refresh their practical teaching methodology. Primary teachers preparing students to enter secondary teaching may find the course relevant.

Objectives

This very practical course aims to provide participants with lots of ideas to help them reflect on and develop their current teaching practice by looking at:

- the latest teaching approaches
- recent changes in the English language
- new ideas and practical activities for skills and language development
- the latest teaching materials
- aspects of English life and culture

Each of the 3 sessions every day focuses on a different aspect of teaching English (e.g. phonology, task-based learning, evidence-based teaching, strategies for developing spoken fluency).

Methodology

Input will be provided in a variety of ways (including seminars and practical workshops, trainer summaries and demonstrations) that take account of the course participants' different learning preferences and styles. Participants will be encouraged to share their own ideas and experience, and develop networks with participants from other countries.

There will be opportunities throughout the course to develop participants English language skills and to exploit the UK context by collecting relevant authentic materials, making contact with native speakers and taking part in the school's social and cultural programme, and outings.

Preparation

A preparation pack is sent to participants on enrolment. Before the start of the course, participants will be asked to complete a pre-course questionnaire and a pre-course task which will enable the trainers to focus more specifically on the exact needs of the participants - the attached timetable, therefore, shows a sample programme for this course. The trainers will review the pre-course task during the course.

Follow up

Participants will be asked to complete a Study Journal during their stay to reflect on the new ideas they have experienced and on how they will incorporate them into their teaching and in their workplace. On the final day participants will present their own action plans and discuss these within their group. Follow up support is available via email and participants will be encouraged to report on their progress. A VLE will be set up for participants to collaborate online.
